Leixlip is already over capacity in terms of housing. Our water treatment plant has been contaminated. The supply is limited. Leixlip Castle is a protected structure as is the Wonderful Barn. The castle is one of the oldest inhabited castles in Ireland. Leixlip prides itself on being a beautiful historic town with links to back to Norman times. Leixlip Castle and its remaining estate should be turned into a parkland similar to Castletown estate in Celbridge which Desmond Guinness saved from ruins in 1967. Future generations will thank Kildare County Councilors for saving this vital historical estate that will add greatly to the tourism potential of Kildare and the the Guinness history.
